

ZHANG Yuping

Lawyer

city:
Beijing

phone:
010-8287 0288

e-mail:
zhangyuping@baclaw.cn

Professional expertise

Company Law

Personal Profile

Ms. ZHANG Yuping is a bachelor of law. Being dedicated to the field of corporate legal services in her practicing career of over 23 years from 2000, she is a permanent legal advisor to many enterprises and public institutions and has built abundant experience in professional legal services.

Specializing in seeking breakthrough by examining details, Ms. ZHANG used to successfully eliminate the crisis just before the moment the funds over ten million were to be transferred, and helped the client fully recover such amount; she also detected a turning point when the client faced criminal accusation that may seriously affect the credit and listing in the future of the enterprise, hence changing the bad to the good and assisting the enterprise in overcoming the crisis while improving its operation and management.

Ms. ZHANG' s efforts mainly cover: legal affairs in the civil and commercial fields, especially corporate equity interests, economic contracts, intellectual property rights, and labor law affairs, with her clients involving various domains including without limitation chemical manufacturing, electronic information, automobile sales, construction leasing, and software technology, mainly focusing on corporate equity, enterprise management, business contract, intellectual properties, labor and personnel, among other legal practices related to enterprise operation and management.

Ms. ZHANG received zero complaint from clients in her practicing career of 23 years. She provided continuous and stable professional legal services for many clients for over 10 years by answering queries in production operation and management raised by enterprises and public institutions, and safeguarding them for growth together.

Representative performance

- Represented X Technology Co., Ltd. in the loan dispute with X Trading Co., Ltd. to sort out detailed facts of the case, fully understand the background, accurately predicted the falsified litigation between the counterparty and a third party, and successfully raised an objection just before the amount involved was to be transferred, hence avoiding incorrect payment of over ten million to win the time and space for the client to recover such funds. After the efforts of one year and a half, assisted the client to successfully recover such funds.

- When the client she served was subject to criminal investigation and accusation, she fully studied the merits, looked into the enterprise, and, based on the latest opinions at that time jointly proposed by nine departments including the Supreme People' s Procuratorate of the PRC on "comprehensively implementing the ruling-by-law thought of President Xi Jinping, by establishing and improving the third-party supervision and evaluation mechanism for enterprise compliance in the pilot work of promoting enterprise compliance reform in accordance with the law" , assisted the client in applying to the procuratorate for enterprise compliance check under the third-party mechanism, assisting the client in making thorough and effective governance rectifications with reference to the problems in production and operation that were revealed in this case, completing compliance governance as required, and successfully passing the compliance governance acceptance check. With this, the enterprise ultimately obtained the non-prosecution decision for this case.